

WHAT TO EXPECT AT CLUBS

Our Sunday Girls Club is designed to give girls ages 5–12 a chance to connect with animals, learn responsibility, and grow confidence in a fun, hands-on farm setting.

- Horse Time: Girls groom, lead, and help with basic horse training.
- Farm Chores: They feed, clean, and care for the animals to learn responsibility and teamwork.
- Animal Interaction: Time is spent with cows, goats, chickens, ducks, bunnies, and our sweet farm dog.
- Creative Projects: We include woodworking, farm crafts, and seasonal projects.
- Nature Exploration: Every third week, we go on a hike!

Each Sunday is different, but always meaningful and memorable.

FARM FUN FOR ALL GIRLS

At Dr. Suss Stables, our Sunday Girls Club welcomes girls ages 5 to 12 who love animals, nature, and hands-on adventure. Whether your daughter is outgoing or shy, experienced with animals or brand new to farm life, she'll find her place here.

Our club is designed to support personal growth, foster friendship, and help every girl shine through real, meaningful experiences.

WHY GIRLS CLUB

Our Girls Club isn't just about animals — it's about growth, connection, and confidence. Through regular time on the farm, girls learn responsibility, build friendships, and gain life skills in a fun and natural way. Each week, girls are surrounded by calm animals, a safe environment, and caring staff who guide them through age-appropriate tasks and activities that help them feel capable, grounded, and proud of themselves.

HOW WE GUIDE

We meet each girl where she's at — whether she's confident around animals or just starting out. Our club is led by warm, experienced staff who know how to create a space that's both structured and playful. Girls are gently guided to try new things, take responsibility, and work together — all while having fun on the farm. Every team member has hands-on experience working directly under Leah Lowenstein, who oversees all ground-based animal programming with care and intention.

We believe in learning by doing — and letting each girl discover her own strength.
